Officer Mel Boyd Injured In GGF Pro Shop Incident

Albany Police Officer Mel Boyd was injured about 3 a.m. last Friday when a man he had arrested at the Golden Gate Fields golf shop threw an unknown type of liquid at him and later a glass jar which had contained the liquid.

Although three officers were at the scene, there was no way for them to communicate. Acting Chief Art Smith Friday requested the City Council to supply walkie-talkies for police officers.

When the silent alarm sounded, Police Officers Robert Buck, Archie Stirling and Boyd went to the area. Buck took up a post on the north side of the building, Stirling remained on the freeway and Boyd went to the west door at the south end of the building. He heard sounds inside and the door was ajar.

A man opened the door and threw an irritating liquid at the officer, hitting his eyes, face, left hand and clothing. Half-blinded and in pain, the officer ordered the man to exit.

"You've got me, officer. Don't shoot."

Boyd had the man facing the wall, but he said he could not place his hands on the wall because of a bad knee. Boyd blew his whistle for assistance from Buck, but Buck did not hear it.

The man whirled around and hurried the jar at Boyd's head. Upon recovery, Boyd shot twice as the man fled south. Hearing the shots, Buck arrived and summoned assistance from Berkeley and El Cerrito. No trace of the man was found.

Later, Officer Stirling said he had seen the man from the freeway. He had watched him run south, then turn east and drop to the ground behind a mound. He had no means of communicating this information to the officers at the scene.

Boyd's eyeball and eyelid were red and swollen. The doctor he consulted could not immediately identify the substance which had been thrown, but said it contained irritants. The officer did not lose any work time.

Inspector Smith said Monday, "It's a good thing that jar wasn't a gun. This could have been serious."

Nothing was missing from the shop. The man who escaped is described as white, 40-45 years old, about six feet tall with a coarse, scarred face, brown, shaggy, mid-length hair, wearing brown zippered jacket and blue trousers. He was wearing dirty gloves, Boyd reported.

Art Show Welcomes Artists, Craftsmen To Enter by Aug. 15

Bay Area artists and craftsmen are invited to enter their work in the third annual Albany Chamber of Commerce Art Show and Merchants' Bazaar Aug. 27-29 in Albany Memorial Park.

According to Art Chairman Mrs. R. E. Moss, the entry fee is $5 and the deadline for entering is Aug. 15.

The show is non-juried, but an award for the artist judged most popular by audience ballot is planned.

Artists are asked to check in at the Albany Chamber of Commerce office on Aug. 26 between 1 and 4 p.m. to be told their locations at the show. All work must be hung by 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 27, and by 10 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 28 and 29. Night storage will be provided.

Entry blanks are available by writing Mrs. Moss in care of the Chamber office, 1108 Solano Ave., Albany 94706. For information, call 525-1771 or 527-0507.

Lt. Dean Volheim Graduates from Basic

Second Lt. Dean Volheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Volheim of 1330 Portland, graduated yesterday from basic officers' training at Ft. Benning, Ga., and will start parachute school next Monday.

Upon graduation from the University of San Francisco last January, he was one of five in the class who graduated with distinguished military honors. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in ROTC and last May was commissioned to the same rank in the regular army at the Presidio. He received his BA degree in classical languages and plans to become a teacher.

At USF, Dean was a member of the tennis club, and president of Scabbard and Blade, military honorary society.

A 1960 graduate of Albany High School, he was a member of the tennis team, concertmaster of the orchestra, chief justice of the student body court and active in drama.

BAND UNIFORMS COMPLETE!

ALBANY LIONS CLUB members heard that the band uniform fund was complete except for funds for patches on the pockets reading "Albany High Band." They decided to finance this final touch. ALBANY SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES $1,736,427 BUDGET, $4.65½ TAX

A record high tax rate of $4.65½ per $100 assessed valuation to finance a new budget of $1,736,427 was adopted by the Board of Education of Albany Unified School District at its meeting Aug. 3.

The new tax rate includes an increase of 35½ cents, including the tax to be collected by the city.

Talk of teacher pay hikes was postponed until Sept. 14.

Although the meeting was in the form of a public hearing on the budget and tax rate and had been fully publicized, no teacher representative or citizen appeared to comment.

The Albany Teachers association has requested a 3.65 per cent increase in the wages of teachers.

If the board approves the pay hike, the district's reserve would drop to $30,000. As of now, the reserve allocated is $73,000 to meet any drop in expected revenue. Superintendent Kenneth M. Forry has consistently recommended a reserve of 10 per cent of the budget. The $73,000 is less than five per cent.

Renovation work at the high school is expected to be completed on schedule by Aug. 28, Forry told the board. Installation of laboratory equipment will begin Aug. 16.

A time table for new construction at Albany High School includes legal notices advertising for bids to be published in the Times between Aug. 25 and Sept. 1 with bids to be opened Sept. 28. Following signing the contracts Oct. 5 or 12, construction will begin with Oct. 15, 1966, set as the tentative completion date, Forry reported.

Turner Chairman Of Conference Committee

During the August meeting of the Alameda County Mayors' conference in Newark Wednesday night, Albany Administrative Officer James B. Turner was named chairman of a three-man committee to investigate what the Public Utilities commission is doing about undergrounding utility lines.

Others on the committee are Pleasanton City Manager Jim Fales and Hayward Manager Ray Doran.

The city-county cooperative committee, which includes Albany Mayor Lewis Howell, reported three problems to be explored: 1, orderly development of unincorporated areas along with the plans of individual cities; 2, obtaining more complete information on individual tax bills and 3, creation of a subcommittee from the Board of Supervisors comparable to the mayor group to discuss mutual problems.

Union City Mayor Irving Williams said he deplores the idea of the county providing services to unincorporated areas and billing taxpayers in the county for that cost. "Let them incorporate and pay for their own services," he said.

Howell was appointed to a committee to meet with the Board of Supervisors to explain that Alameda county mayors and city councils do not want a portion of gas tax funds allocated to finance the Bay Area Transportation Study. Others are Mayor Don Dillon of Fremont, chairman, and Mayor John Long of Pleasanton.

Council Public Hearing On 1040 Evelyn Sept. 13

Albany City Council Monday night scheduled a public hearing on the construction of a triplex at 1940 Evelyn for Monday night, Sept. 13.

Nove L. Meyers, owner of the property, has twice been denied permission to build a fourplex at that address. On July 27, the Planning and Zoning commission granted his request to construct a triplex. Had no appeal from its decision been received within 10 days, a Council public hearing would not have been necessary.

Joseph W. Nunes of 1045 Evelyn made such an appeal within the time limit.

With Councilman Joe Egenberger absent, Council approved Fire Chief Gerald Browne's request to appoint Horace Koepke as probationary fireman, accepted the resignation of Don C. Day from the department, and referred to Chief Browne two complaints regarding the fire department.

One was from Louis C. Bell of Albany Key Shop at 944 Adams, complaining about firemen doubling as locksmiths and advertising in the fact in the Albany Times. The second was from David H. Kennedy of 633 Adams, complaining they were not given adequate notice that weeds were to be burned next door and that acrid smoke had blown into the yard and all over a fresh laundry on the line.

Council was informed that Recreation Director E. J. Rooney will be on vacation Aug. 9-15; City Clerk Myrtle McLean, 10 days beginning today, and James B. Turner, administrative officer for the next two weeks.

Filed were communications from the Associated Home Builders concerning an assembly bill requiring subdividers to provide park areas, from the county highway advisory committee concerning recommendations on state highway improvements, and from Rosemary Leigh of 1119 Ninth expressing support for Albany teenagers.

A work session will be held concerning the police department's request for walkie-talkies, an item eliminated from the department's budget request. Councilman George Hein said he didn't realize the importance of the walkie-talkies until he read the police report of an incident at Golden Gate Fields last Friday morning (see separate story).

A communication from the division of community health services stated that the laboratory of the state health department has been designated for Albany use at an estimated cost of $2,400 a year was referred to the local health department for recommendations.

Following a complaint from Jerry Talley that nothing has been done on Cleveland for 10-12 years, Mayor Lewis Howell announced that work on the street is scheduled in this year's budget.

On recommendation of Turner, a business permit for dismantling cars at 1100 Fourth St. was allowed subject to granting a use permit by the Planning and Zoning commission. Expenditures recommended by Turner and approved by Council are semi-final engineering payments on Buchanan Street project, totalling $2,758.49, and a progress payment to Contractor Amaroza of $54,621.90 upon completion of 41.3 per cent of new city buildings.

Resolutions approved included appointment of James O'Sullivan as probationary fireman with the fire department, restoring one-hour parking at 1513 Solano, requesting BARTD to limit its hiring, eliminating PG&E bond requirements in Albany, approving the budget for gas tax monies, and authorizing the mayor to execute a land fill agreement permitting extension of the north parking lot at Golden Gate Fields. The meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m.

Mary Poppins Opens Today

Walt Disney's fantasy, "Mary Poppins," opens at the Albany Theatre today with the children's matinee (see the ad for time).

Starring Academy Award winner Julie Andrews and Dick Van Dyke, "Mary Poppins" is in technicolor and provides wholesome, merry entertainment for the entire family.

Frances Durland Paintings at Albany Library

New canvases from the brush of Albany artist Mrs. Frances Durland will be shown at the Albany Library during the month of August.

Mrs. Durland, who has been a frequent contributor to the Library's art program in years past, was this year selected to display her work in the Crown Zellerbach juried show in San Francisco.

She has also exhibited in the Berkeley, El Cerrito and San Francisco art festivals, at the Arts and Crafts Co-op in Berkeley.

Her one-man shows have appeared at the Little Gallery in Berkeley, the El Cerrito Library and many other places. Mrs. Durland studied drama and recreational techniques in Chicago after receiving her degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts from the University of Nebraska, where she majored in music.

She taught drama at Santa Rosa Junior College, practiced the profession of writing, and took up art as a hobby. Five years ago she began her serious work in the medium.

She has studied with Virginia Rogers, Jonathan Batchelor, and Catherine Hagen.

Where's The Fire?

Albany Fire Department calls: Aug. 2, washdown, car belonging to James Rogers of Oakland spilling gas from broken fuel line following a series of crashes on Solano Avenue.

Aug. 2, public service, 1021-27 Washington, Evasio Valterza, plugged sewer line, used salvage master to pick up overflowed sewage, told Valterza to call a plumber.

Aug. 3, smoke scare, 814 Solano, Mrs. Carmen McGrail. Cause of smoke: paper on top of furnace.

Aug. 4, grass fire, west of USDA lab, burning log extinguished.

Aug. 5, inhalator, 924 Key Route Blvd., Phoebe King given oxygen, taken to Herrick hospital.

Aug. 5, pole fire, SP right of way, fire extinguished.

Adults Can Be Drop Outs Too

Many think that the term "drop-out" applies only to teenagers who quit school during the high school years. Not so says the educator, the employer, and others who are concerned with the job advancements of people. The teenager who drops out of school advances to Adult Drop-Out merely by increasing in age and doing nothing about self-improvement or education. With a more complex world before us greater emphasis is placed on the individual doing something about training or lack of training.

The Public Adult Education program in Albany stands ready to assist members of the community and surrounding area, by presenting a summer program of many courses not only aimed at completing the high school diploma, but also at the individual who seeks special skills beyond the diploma. Courses such as U.S. history, civics, and American problems are requirements for the diploma. Courses such as typing, shorthand, real estate, creative writing, investments, bookkeeping, business machines, and basic English all relate to vocational improvement and also become part of the program leading to the diploma.

MASONIC AVENUE in Albany is nearly bare of houses as of this writing. The wrecking ball moves from one house to the next. Before you know it, trucks are hauling off the rubbish. Next thing you know, the lot is cleaned up and you have difficulty remembering what was there. Tommy's Market on Masonic and Portland is having its closing-out sale, so it will go soon.
Of course, some of the homes are moved to new locations, but it seems more are demolished. One of the houses was moved across the Santa Fe tracks to its new location on the rear of Tony Rinna's property on Key Route Blvd. The sight of the house bouncing across the tracks and railroad ties attracted a record audience. Wreckers were moving close to the former Donnell's on Monday. The apartment house across Solano went under the ball last Friday.

Fire Auxiliary Stages White Elephant Sale
Albany Ladies Auxiliary of the California State Firemen's Association recently held a "White Elephant Auction" in the garage of Mrs. Frank Heaney.
Members were asked to bring white elephants to be auctioned during the evening.
Auctioneers were Mrs. Ken Cochran and Mrs. Tom Brennan. Besides being a financial success, it proved to be much fun for the members.
Adding to the effect, the walls of the garage were covered with appropriate murals depicting white elephants cleverly painted by Chief Gerald Browne.
A beautiful brass student lamp was donated by Louise Fisher. Two chic aprons were donated by Lexicon Maple House in Albany.

Alameda county mayors within BART district suggested their cities may be paying twice because BARTD is also contributing to the study.
The mayors went on record favoring exploration of a cooperative library system for the county.
Mayors spent considerable time discussing AB 1150, which provides that a city by ordinance may require dedication of land in subdivisions for park and recreation purposes for residents of the subdivision. Anticipating a test law suit brought by the Associated Home Builders of the Greater East Bay, mayors generally seemed to believe that the sooner the law is tested, the better.
Conference members discussed whether to ask the League of California Cities to test the law, finally deciding that any city planning to use it have its ordinance checked by the League staff.

The meeting, conducted by Laurence Kelley, mayor of Piedmont, vice chairman of the conference, was held at Kiote Hills Country club. The next meeting will be in Berkeley.

At a recent luncheon held in the fire station, members of the Albany Fire Department presented John Hritz with a diamond set for 20 years service. This award is presented by members of the department from their own fund set aside for this purpose. Present at the award luncheon were Mayor Lewis Howell and Administrative Officer James J. Hritz. Fire Chief Gerald D. Hritz spoke of the high lights of the career of John Hritz. Fireman Hritz became interested in fire fighting while stationed at the Landing Force Equipment Depot as a Seabee during WWII. This is now Golden Gate Fields race track.

Hritz lives at 707 Curtis with his wife, Margaret, and family of four, George, Maryanne, Susan and Pat.

Joan Diane Murray Weds Daniel Hugh Mahoney

St. Ambrose Catholic Church in Berkeley was the scene of an impressive wedding ceremony recently when Daniel Hugh Mahoney took as his bride the former Joan Diane Murray.

The Rev. Francis P. Dunn, S.J., of Blessed Sacrament Church in Hollywood, celebrated the Nuptial Mass. The bride and groom received Holy Communion under the two species, bread and wine, a privilege recently granted by the Church, for the marriage ceremony.

For her wedding, Joan wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace sprinkled with au... boreal is sequins. The long-sleeved bodice was joined at the waist by a panel which had lace roses placed at intervals down the front, and tiers of lace across the back flowed into a cathedral train. A shoulder length illusion veil attached to a seed pearl crown, framed her face. Her bouquet was of cascading white roses and stephanotis, which carried out the rose motif of the gown.

bride, gave her in marriage, Miss Carol Musser, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Bernard F. (Louise Mahoney) McEntee, the groom's sister, Miss Cecilia Arias of Hollywood and Mrs. Walter Hanby were her bridesmaids. Miss Deborah Murray was the junior bridesmaid. The young women wore identical floor length empire models of chiffon over silk with a long sleeved bodice of pink, a white skirt and white ribbon belt with streamers down the back. Their head pieces were of pink maline with pleated brim, caught up in front by tiny pink artificial flowers. They carried cascading bouquets of orchid beauty carnations. The maid of honor's was centered ceded lace jacket dress, matching net hat and navy accessories. Both women wore white orchid corsages.

John Moriarty played the organ and Mrs. Linda Henderson rendered several solos.

After the ceremony the groom escorted his bride to the Blessed Virgin's altar upon which she placed a bouquet of white carnations. The junior bridesmaid carried her train.

The gala reception was held at Cerrito City Club on Kearney St., where they enjoyed the music of Dick Mulford's trio. Dancing and Albany Little League baseball season ended last Saturday with the National League's Albany Lions Club Cards and the American League's Arrow Glass Angels as the season's champs.

After winning 17 consecutive games, first half winners Sam's Pharmacy Tigers bowed to the Angels 6-3. This loss automatically scheduled the two out three game play off, the Angels capturing the first two.

Ralph Valentine pitcher a two run, one hitter over the Tigers in the first game. Tigers pitcher Tony Van Coops obtained the only Tiger hit and scored both runs while giving up nine hits that scored three Angel runs.

The Angels returned two days later winning their second game 6-3 with winning pitcher Reggie Johnson releasing four hits against the 17 collected by the Angels. Bob Calegari tossed for the Tigers.

In the first Cards-Dodgers game the Cards won 3-2. Catcher Bob Stovel scored both runs for the Cards, one a steal of home and the other an easy steal on an overthrow to third base. Dodger short stop Steve Reed hit a one-run homer in the fourth inning. Winning pitcher Matt Gray struck out nine, walked one and permitted but three hits. Loser Herb Russell struck out five, walked three, and released two hits.

In the second game the Cards seemed to have it in the bag by taking a two run lead in the first inning and acquiring two more in the second. The Dodgers attempted a threat in the last inning scoring three of their six runs, but the Cards' 10 runs were not to be taken. Winning pitcher Kirk Sutherland struck out nine, walked one, while Dodger John Van Coops struck out three and walked four. Both teams hit their share of singles. Cards catcher Bob Stovel hit two doubles and left fielder George Dowling hit one. Dodgers right fielder Herb Russell and pitcher John Van Coops each chucked up a double only to be topped by a triple by catcher Chuck Griffin.

Second half standings for the National League are Dodgers 6-2, Pirates 5-2 (these two teams were tied for first place and had to play a 13 inning game to determine the winner of the second half), Braves, Cubs and Giants are 3-4, and the Cards 1-6. American League final standings are Angels 9-0, Tigers 8-1, Yankees 6-3, White Sox 5-3, Twins 5-4, Athletics 3-3, Orioles 3-4, Indians 1-6, Senators 1-7, and Red Sox 0-5.

LETTER

Editor, the Times,

Although I did not attend the special Council meeting of July 29, I have been told that it was one of the best-conducted meetings ever held. Congratulations to the four Council members who attended and especially to Councilman Parker for the courage he displayed in withdrawing his so-called "One Man Crusade" against the Lucky 13.

Now that the club has been given a clean bill of health, I hope that they will reconsider and open their proposed restaurant and that the citizens of Albany recognize the source of what was and is an attempt to embarrass and black business on San Pablo Avenue.

Certain remarks made by me at a Council meeting have been misinterpreted and no reflections were meant to be cast on our Police Department.

Our Police Department is one of the finest and Albany should be proud of it. We can be thankful that the Chief is not responsible to any clique or Council—only to you, the citizens.

SENIOR CITIZENS

846 Masonic Ave.

The apron parade, planned by Mary Welp at the Senior Center Aug. 5, was a great success, netting 57 aprons of all makes and designs to be sold at the bazaar at the Center Wednesday, Oct. 20.

Florence Bridgeford won the prize for the daintiest apron; Nettie Boyle, the most practical; Winnifred Mulligan, most original; George Edlefsen, most original apron made by a man, and Herb Healy was much applauded for his unusual creation.

Judges in the apron contest were Bernice Boyd, May Olson, and Myrtle McLean, all members of the Soroptimist club of Albany. A unique miniature wishing well was made for the center by Edlefsen. It was decided to keep it for the Seniors' wishes. At present it is working for the piano fund.

Who says Senior Citizens live in a small world and do not have wide horizons? Julian and Katherine Kay recently returned from Hawaii as did Bill and Julia Day. Cy and Molly Levine have returned from New York City and the World's Fair. Jack and Geneva Ladyman have toured much of the United States and Nellie Karen Brix of 705 Jackson reported to Albany police Aug. 5 that as she was walking home, five juveniles passed and one reached for her purse. She clutched the purse and swung on the boy with her cane. He retreated across the street, where he taunted her.

Breault spent 10 days in Hawaii visiting her son and his new wife. Community service workers could use more help Fridays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the bazaar workshop and craft class, meeting Wednesdays from 10 to 5, always welcomes volunteers.

For information concerning the Center or its activities, call 526-1601.

Benny Barnett, Dagmar Marfoldi Are Married

Benjamin and Margaret Burnett of 701 Madison have announced the marriage of their son, Benny of the same address, to Dagmar Marfoldi of El So-brante.

The couple was married in Reno July 31 and will temporarily make their home with the bridegroom's parents, although the bride has flown to Germany for a brief visit with her father. They plan a wedding trip to Mexico at a later date.

Two days after the wedding, Burnett was notified he is to ap-

Visits Lindbergs

Bo Loberfeldt of Bromma, Stockholm, Sweden, became a member of the crew of the John-son Line's "Rie de Janeiro" in order to come to San Francisco and to Albany to visit his mother's relatives, Harold and Helen Lindberg of 1282 Solano.

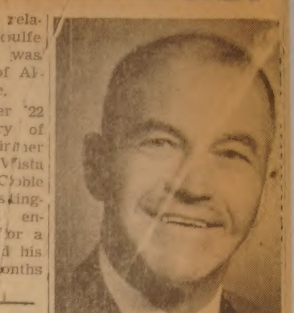

The young man had corresponded with the Lindbergs, but never met them until coming here.

A Series

Chamber of Commerce Board

Elmer F. Coble, customer relations manager for Jim Weulfe Ford, 836 San Pablo Ave., was recently elected a director of Albany Chamber of Commerce.

He retired last year after 22 years as executive secretary of the Albany YMCA. At a dinner in his honor at the Mira Vista country club last Sept. 29, Coble received Albany's third Distinguished Service Award, an engraved watch and $1,000 for a trip to Hawaii for him and his wife, who died a few months later.

A native of Springfield, Elmer lives at 6814 Fairmount Ave., Cerrito. He is a member of many Rotary club and spent total of 46 years in Y work Springfield, Ohio, Honolulu, Hawaii, Everett, Wash., San Diego, Ontario, Vallejo and Alameda, Calif., and Tucson, Ariz.

Coble attended six years of college, is the father of two married daughters.

"A Chamber of Commerce should help better the business and residential relationships and help improve, modernize and beautify the city," he says.

H. F. Call

H. F. "Red" Call, president of Albany Chamber of Commerce, owner of Call Brothers Jewelers, 823 San Pablo Ave., has been an Albany resident a business man for 22 years.

He lives at 816 Kains with wife, Ruth, who is associated with him in the jewelry business and son, Charles. A married daughter, Deanna, lives in Richmond.

Native of North Carolina, Call started in watchmaking at age 14. Later he took a specialized course in diamond setting and jewelry manufacturing.

A member of Albany Chamber of Commerce 15 years, Call received the Presidential Award doubling the membership when he was membership chairman.

He is a former member a past chairman of the Planning and Zoning commission, president of Albany Lions club, past president of Oakland Executive Speakers club, member of the board of directors of the Homeowners and Taxpayers' association, member of Alameda Lodge 1972, Loyal Order of Moose and active in United Crusade March of Dimes and Heart Fund campaigns. He is a charter sponsor of Little League in Albany.

Call actively supported fundraising for the new Albany Senior Citizens center, Albany library and new city and school building bond issues.

He is working with the committees attempting to bring modern street lighting to Solano and San Pablo Avenues.

"The Chamber of Commerce is the only organization in the City of Albany that can benefit all its citizens, businessmen and professional people," he says.

ANN GERAGHTY

A Rosary was recited at El Olson Mortuary for Ann Geraghty, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, who died last week in San Leandro. She was 84 years old and resided in the Bay Area for years.

Services were held Aug. 3 at El Olson with a Mass at Jerome's church in El Cerrito. Committal was at St. Mary's Cemetery, Oakland.

A resident of 407 Cornell Ave., Albany, she is survived by a son, James Geraghty, Scotland; two daughters, Mary Dennett, Albany, and Gertrude Egger, Cerrito; two sisters, Catherine Logan, Santa Monica, and Nina Daley, Scotland; 11 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.
